

Torben Moller, Ph.D., IMC
Advising in Matters of Process, Value, and Change for Business, Education, and IT

Selected Publication List

I am, as you can see from this list, a “practitioner;” most of my writing (reports, proposals, white papers, conference papers, etc.) has disappeared into business plans. When relevant, I have done original work. My latest publication, “Educating Tomorrow’s Leaders in CSR,” demonstrates interesting and original work in business education.

“Working on PRME -- Educating Tomorrow’s Leaders in CSR,” with Irene Q. Mortensen, Global Responsibility, the GRLI Partner Magazine, Summer 2009

Value-Based Business Creation: Strategic Business and Capital Planning, with Nils Randrup and Dan Hoeyer, Copenhagen, Management Publishing, 2002, ISBN 87-91251-00-1

“Micropayments,” Computerworld, Denmark, Jan. 11, 2002, p. 9

“Facts and Fallacy in Data Extraction,” On-line Executive Journal for Data-Intensive Decision Support, 1-4, 1997

“Standards for Image and Document Processing,” SPIE/SPSE Symposium on Electronic Imaging Science and Technology, Feb. 1990, Santa Clara, Calif.

“Arab World On-line, a Bilingual Information Utility,” Seminar on Bilingual Computing in Arabic and English, University of Cambridge, Sept. 1989

“A Hierarchical Microcomputer System for Hardware and Software Development,” with C.V. Ravi, 4th Annual Symposium on Computer Architecture, 1977. New York, IEEE, 1977.

“Distributed Computer Systems: Problems and Trends,” Thesis (Ph.D. in Computer Science) University of California, Berkeley, 1977